

A. Byrd
E. Kuo
V. Villaneuva

Life of Inquiry

What does this mean?

Not settle with status quo

Embracing ongoing learning

Five years from now, what would you see, feel and hear if Foothill valued....

Returning students

Senior's degrees

How do we get there?

Giving credit for prior learning, so

We need a motif of learning, and inquiry in everything we do education

part of our campus culture.

second this!

flexibility

Examining one's own thoughts, evaluating knowledge learned from external sources before internalizing it, before acting on it, refraining to act on it.

Pursuing higher education

innovation

A dynamic

Make people learn

Continuous pursuit of knowledge, understanding truth. Commitment to asking questions, exploring ideas, and seeking deeper insights into the world.

Engaged in one's always learning, flexible, intellectually flexible...

More structures like RSLs, Business Innovation Challenge, and the like to build student life-long learning

interdependent connections across disciplines

it...Language Arts could, for example, opportunities outside of class.

COLLEGE

