

Mission Statement Review Committee: Context and History

- At the October 7th MIPC meeting, the council decided to review, and possibly revise, the current mission statement during this accreditation cycle.
- A small initial group formed to start the work (Elaine Kuo, Janie Garcia, Jordan Fong, and Josh Pelletier) and to create a survey to gather feedback about the current mission statement.
- Results from the survey were shared at MIPC in January, and a larger group formed to review the feedback and consider making changes to the mission.

- The survey asked people to evaluate the current mission based on guidance provided by the Society for College and University Planning (SCUP)

Mission Statement Review Committee: Context and History

- Following this first survey, the Mission Review Committee expanded its membership to include all constituent groups (full list on website).
- This expanded committee met during the winter quarter, decided that revisions were necessary, and produced two draft statements for the college to consider:
