

action, or further opportunity to relay said implications to constituents with a formal action recommendation at a future meeting during the Spring Quarter (or even next year, if need).

Though the following questions are meant to help guide feedback, constituents are absolutely free to comment on any aspect of the reorganization. An anonymous online survey, similar to the one made available during the budget reduction conversations, is also available for those who wish to provide feedback through such mode: https://foothill.edu/president/updates.html

For your reference, attached is the current organizational chart that reflects the reorganization as recommended last year and any additional changes to date.
