Draft Minutes, June 6, 2017 11. Catalog Addendum

Speaker: Isaac Escoto

Previous discussions at CCC have included challenges related to annual printing of physical catalog. Some campuses publish an addendum, usually midyear, which allows for certain midyear changes to be published. Office of Instruction starting to look at what a catalog addendum would look like and what it would allow us to do. Online catalog options exist. Important to consider implications of changes. LaManque noted importance of being able to offer courses more quickly as a service to students; perhaps can start with Stand Alone courses.

unable to get timely responses. Also noted that Apprenticeship curriculum is different than other Foothill curriculum and agreed that perhaps should be treated differently—students do not browse through Foothill catalog for Apprenticeship courses as they do for a Math course, because they're in a defined program that they must be accepted to prior to enrolling in courses. Question regarding potential implications of offering a course not published in the catalog—LaManque noted that topic might come up during accreditation visit, but not something the state would ask about. Hueg noted difficulty of working with Apprenticeship faculty on courses, can be very hands-on and time consuming.
