He pointed out that this appears to be in our best interests for a variety of reasons. He's received outlines from other colleges that are providing this on their CORs. It keeps the students as well as the new faculty informed as what is expected in each course. He recognizes that it is faculty purview but on behalf of the deans, he strongly urges faculty to consider this. • Cashmore related that the FA is strongly opposed to this being mandated by administration. It was made clear that the recommendation is based on the Accreditation standards and is not a mandate. • As a point of interest, Cammin said that De Anza is not
